Dear Ed,

Thank you for your generous [REDACTED] sponsorship of our Thirteenth Annual Women & Wildlife Awards held on November 7, 2018. The money raised will help our team of devoted biologists to advance the long-term recovery of our at-risk wildlife.

We were delighted to partner with Civic Duty Partners in recognizing special individuals for their achievements on behalf of New Jersey's wildlife and the progress they have made in professions in which women have long been underrepresented. We are fortunate that here in New Jersey, a strong and inspiring core of female scientists, educators, advocates, researchers, and rehabilitators serve as role models for the next generation of wildlife conservation leaders. Thanks to our Women & Wildlife honorees, girls today can confidently pursue science and wildlife conservation as careers with limitless and exciting possibilities.

Thank you, again, for your support.

Best regards,

Liz Silvernail
